Prospectus of the Companhia Minerva Progresso Pernambucano.—The purpose of the Companhia Minerva Progresso Pernambucano is to introduce into practical use compressed air-mardines, to construct ressels and ships in which such machines may be applied in accordance with the invention privileged by better-patent No $11 and Decree of March 7th, 1890, at Viristin 1847-hosa de Sonza, developing in every way the sail privilege concelled by that decree and letter-patent as well as all the other privileges acquired by the company, with reference to the said invention, from France, Italy, Portugal, Englan 1, the United States, Austria Uningary and Germany, and also to make all operations in Credit allowed by law, inclusive in Sassing preferred evidences of indelted ness to hearer.

make all operations of credit allowed by law, inclusive of issuing preferred evidences of intelleted mess to heart.

The principal object emissising in the divelopment of the alluded invention and privileges, this empany is causing the constrainth in Pernambasen of the ship. Mineray for surface and submarine navigation by means of compressed air.

Not only its entirely new form but its shill construction, wholly unique and offrom, gives it greater vehicity than that of any other constructed up to date. Its division into three constructed up to date. Its division into three constructed up to date. Its division into three constructed up to date that division into three sections incares it absolutely against loss, because in ease of collision it can dispense with the pair injured and proceed with the others to its destination. At the same time, there are no delays in disclarages breames the cargo destinated for one port is put in a particular section and upon arrival it the introded purt the ship leaves that section continuing furthwith to the terminus of its route, and upon its return later rejoins the same.

The three sections are bound furnly together among themselves, but can, as we said, be easily separated. They work with six engines, two in each section. With the greatest ease the Lamorus can be submerged, for which purp set it is sufficient to open the valves of the interior filling with water the existing tanks, and with equal case it can again be loated by opening the reservoirs of compressed air against the water which is thus expelled by the force.

This ship is also useful for submarine bonduralment, having suitable abservatories to tratch the enemy, appropriate canoni, steel heaks and lidales which piece asy kind affects, sever reality heavy tron or briss chains. Its speed is calculated at 6,600 meters are it a fixed as hour for a ship of small tunnage, and those of greater tomage develop 130,000 meters or 30 knots an hour.

The practical application of the motor and nachinery for compressed air has been already himosotrated in an exhibition made, and has been commended by the press. We can only reproduce here what a few of the leading journals have sail with respect to the submarine Mineron.

The Journal to Commente of Nor 19th, 1851, says: By invitation of Wi. Verissimo Bachusa, inventor of this new system of ship, a manther of persums recaired bay before yesterialy to a house on the Rna de Macheilo Coellin, where were constructed the machines for its propulsion, submarishin, etc., etc. The keel was bailt in Penanthuco where it awaits the engines, which operated by rumpressed air gave good results in the trial of yesternlay which was yholly private. The official trial will be made next month, after which the engines will be sent to Penantheco the placed within the Minerou which ought to arrive here in March.

The Graeta de Norbistin of Dec. 301, 1891, says:
Under the title of Companhia Minerou Progressa de ternambunco, Mr. Verissimu Barbosa de sunca and others have organized a company with the view of realizing surface or submarine awayatton by compressed air in sperially constructed vessels, there being afrendy one huilt in Pernambue. We assisted yesterday at some thorough trials of the cylinders of Mr. Barbosa holl us, he intends some to once engines of navigation to operate, binning a speed above 20 miles an hour. There is mucher apparatus slass of his invention by means of which written correspondence can be transmitted with maximum velocity to great ulstances. According to what, Mr. Barbosa hall us, he intends some the rung deline of the p m ans of con prescul air is already, so to speak, providedly demonstrated; the motors and machinery have been seen to give the best results and are exhibited in the private shops of the company on the Rua de Machande Coelin No. 18, and in it short time the ship-Minora will be ready to makine. The great advantages, the fabilities prafts which the sharely ders of the Cumpanhia Minerva. Progresso Pernambusam will necessarily reap in virtue of its marvelloos invention patented here and abroad, are themsetsable and incatendable, because further the motors by means of compressed air sur not only adapted to navigation but also to railreads and stationery engires, which will be preferred in those operated by steam, not only an account of eleminess and comfort, but on around of economy. The shareholder of the Companial Minerx-Progresso Pernambusano in order to make ample pravision for his feiture, need only to keep his shares with which he will make the best patrimony for himself and for his own. This is the underiable truth and is clearly apparent from this shares.

RIO DE JANEIRO, JANUARY 5th, 1892.

THE action of Congress in increasing The action of Congress in increasing taxation in the bodget recently adopted was a serious mistake. We have long cona serious mistake. We have long con-tended that Brazil is heavily overtaxed, and that this excessive taxation is a crushing hurden upon the country's development In a time of speculative excitement, when fortness are quickly and easily made, these burdens of taxation are but slightly felt. burdens of taxation are but slightly felt, but when the reverses come—and come they will—or when the country settles driwn to the routine of ordinary life, then these burdens become oppressive and nut infrequently disastrous. In all such cases it is far the better policy to suspend public works and to cut off public expenditures wherever possible, than to increase taxation. The true basis of all national prosperity is individual prosperity, but this can never be obtained where the government absurbs so large a part of the citizen's earnings. In large a part of the citizen's earnings. imports will not only take just so much from the pocket of the consumer, but it will from the pocket of the consumer, but it will operate to increase the costs of living in every other direction. It should be understood that Brazil is now one of the most expensive countries in the world in live in, and that these expenses can be met only when commerce and industry are in a turiving condition. Just now both are stagment, and in consequence the people are linding it most difficult to meet even their ordinary expenses. A moral of this is sagnam, and in consequence the penjac are finding it most difficult to meet even their ordinary expenses. A proof of this is to be found in the discontent constantly manifested among the lathering classes. They are entitled to sympathy for their lot is a hard one, and yet there is a feeling that their agitations must be suppressed at all costs. The tendency of such a state of things is anarchy, and the sooner thus is understood the better. Instead of increasing taxes, the government should reduce expenditures. Another must mistaken tax is the additional ten piec cent, on transfers, a tax that is mistaken in policy and most hurtful in operation. It ought to be the policy of the government to facilitate the tunsfer of property, particularly real estate, and to encourage the development of small landed properties. It will do more to develop, the agricultural resources of Brigital than all the pretentious companies that can be created and it will view an element. verop, the agricultural resultires of Bitall than all the pretentions companies that can be created, and it will give an element of order, and political organization which the country does not now possess. In our opinion this sureax and the six per cent lax on which it is based should both be at once abeliabed.

THE final collapse of the Companhia Geral will occasion no surprise to those who have been able to follow the cureer of this nave neen anne to follow the carreer of the sextraordinary corporation. Although many of the roads comprising this system are good enterprises, and although the combin-ation itself under good management could not full to yield a bandsome profit, under an incommentary extraordinary and accounterable to incompetent, extravagant and speculating administration it has been an absolute imposadministration it has been an absolute impos-sibility to make it a paying concern. The stock of some of the companies forming the combination has been so "watered" that dividends are possible only under the most careful management, and this is just what the Companhia Geral has rouspictuously larked. The only recourse now is in the liquidation of the cumpany, and in the complete reorganization of all the separate roads forming the system. And the separate roads forming the system. And it would be well, in such a reorganization, to provide against the future management of the properties in the interests of intriguing the properties in the interests of intriguing speculators. Not only have the shareholder- of these roads a direct interest in their good management, but the public in general has an interest equally important and; it is the business of the authorities to see that it suffers nothing from dishonest or extravagant management

It is not illogether imporbable that there a political element of disturbance behind It is not illogether improbable that there is a political chained of disturbance behind the recent trots among the employés of the Central radiway, but at the same time it will be well to remember that the men have just causes for complaint. The management of this great radiway has been far from satisfactory, and the steatilly increasing costs of height play made it utterly impossible for the fribacer to live upon the meager wages paid him. Undot such rouditions not only has descontent rapidly improved for read has become disarguinzed and its personnel interly demoralized. For a long time of has been absolutely impossible to secure good treatment and primpt service from a majority of the employés of that mad. And it has been equally impossible to control the state, is administered on the red laps system, and is ron without the slightest idea of requirestablity and efficiency. Had the of responsibility and efficiency. Had the Central railway been under private control thy juddic would long ago have compelled a hetter service, but being a state concern the people have been content to submit, just as they submit to everything backed up just as they submit to everything backed up by an ollicial. In the conflict which oc-curred on the right of the 30th, it is most allfleult to determine just where the blanch should be placed. If it is true that the strikers were supplied with money and new revolvers, then we must believe that there reviolers, then we must believe that there was some political intrigue at the bottom of it. The vandalism of the strikers, also, in hoting the station and the baggage of ravellers can not be censured to severely. On the other side, it must be confessed that the police did not acquit themselves such one too much credit. Eddling with any too much credit. Riddling a public edilice with rifle balls and attacking modent strangers were very sorry indica-tions of a fitness to cope with so foundable a rising. From all accounts we have not yet seen the last of the difficulty, though it may be anticipated that the new director will deal with the emergency more primpt-y and judiciously and thus save us the painful spectacle which the Central station of this city presented on the night of the 30th and morning of the 31st ult.

—A very peculiar bit of information was telegraphed from Pará yesterday. It states that Gov. Thaumaturgo, of Amazonas, had ordered the liquidation of the entire field of that state, amounting to over 2,000,000$, with the surplus evenue on hamb. This act is so musual as to be admissi incredible. We assume Gov. T. for the next minister of finance.

—On the 30th til. President Flutano Peicoto signed the revenue and appropriation hills. The public revenue is extinated at 20,7,992,1208 and the expenditure at 205,982,2658-26, of which 5,028,828500 is for the department of the interior, 15,953,20550 for that of public instruction, usits and telegraphs, 4,477,848/650 for that of justice, 1,427,008 for that of finance, 116,0278-68, 7638-999 for that of the may, 29,116,0278-681 for that of war, 67,127,576355 for that of agriculture, and 70,883,328#133 for that of finance.

The death of Dom Pelvo removes from the world adecidedly pathetic figure. One cannot him he sorry for an aniable gentlemm whom nature to mel first a file of letters and scientific ease, but maliciously put in a place which percentific ease him maliciously put in a place which percentify called for the qualities of a vigorous ruler of men. Since we have learnt more than was known two years ago, me rather wonders that the fall of the empire in Bazil hid not take place before. It is inhemistry to be successfully intel thy a gentlemma who distiked all forms of soldiering and loved to spend months abroad travelling in search of intellectual society. But since the empire collapsed Brzail has done unthing for herself which shows that the change has been for the better. Dom Pedri's rule was weak, but it was assumelly more diguified and capable than the government of a knot of harnest empiricalized than the government of a knot of harnest empiricalized in the programmalists, in emiliantion with speculative financiers. — St. Tumet's Biakget, Dec. 11th.

_ CNOSTEENS NEED

The last week of the year is dways dull, and we have nery little to report. The arrivals of reseals have been dimed of Flum is lower again and reported sull read. You pine has airived and upstations are monitally unchanged for all profiles. Kenissen is rather hicher and Lind door op quote it a slight abstrace. The other articles we quote neal in changed and nominal in the absence of business. Rach me was rather Ban towards the close of the week, but no get makes after Ban towards the close of the week, but no get makes in the market injugent to be appreciated. # HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE.

In dyspepsia the stomach fails to assimilate the food. The Acid Phosphate assists the weakened stomach, making the process of digestion natural and easy.

Dr. A. G. Rawson Harris, L. R. C. P. and M. R. C. S., "The Elms," Pembroke, Eng., says: "I used it in a case of nervous dyspepsia, of long standing, where for years there had been a great wear and tear of the nervous system. This objectionable symptom was speedily relieved in a way that no other remedy has ever effected."
